Due to Covid 19 we will need people to adhere to the restrictions which will be current during November and December. It may be advisable to book more than one table. Whilst we cannot guarantee which actual table you will have, we are happy to confirm that your tables will be next to each other.

We are currently happy to accept bookings for up to six people from different households for December in the hope that restrictions may ease, but advise that if this is not permitted at the time, we reserve the right to adjust these bookings.
