Gluten Intolerance Information

This guide is provided to help you make a choice when dining with us. The meal descriptions do not list all ingredients or allergens so please talk to a member of team for more specific information. The information on this guide is based on our recipes and supplier information. Please check every time you visit and make our team aware of your dietary requirements, even if you have eaten a dish before. These options do not contain wheat or cereals containing gluten as ingredients. We cannot guarantee that your meal will not contain traces of these allergens.

Cross contamination

Whilst every care will be taken when preparing your meal, we do use gluten containing ingredients on our work stations and shared equipment ie. fryers and ovens. If you have any questions regarding cooking methods please ask a team member. Updated 14.02.19
