Please drink responsibly

Otherwise you might make a total fool of yourself by falling face down in a gutter. Declaring undying love to your best friend ever, then promptly throwing up all over them. Calling in to a fast food joint and spilling a load of food down the front of your fabulous outfit, which is now totally ruined and as we all know not even a small nuclear warhead will get that stain out. Wake up in the morning with a total stranger who's name eludes you. There's a tiny man with the most enormous pneumatic drill hammering inside your head whilst his mate is rubbing your eyes with sandpaper, and your tongue....well let's not go there.
